(east side of Central Carolina Community College)

The Friends of the Chatham Community Library will hold its Spring Book Sale on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 28, 29 and 30, at the Chatham Community Library on the campus of Central Carolina Community College in Pittsboro.

More than 18,000 hardbound and softbound books, audio books, CDs, DVDs, and LPs will be available for purchase. Each sale offers a completely new assortment of titles in very good to excellent condition, and all are organized by category, subject or format. 99% of our books are donated from our generous community. We keep a few library discards if they are in excellent condition.

We already have an unusually large and interesting collection of history books for this sale. We'll announce other notable topics and categories here as our collection for the sale grows.

Book Sale hours are Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Admission is free, and there is plenty of free parking and volunteers to assist with carrying out and loading books.

We accept all major credit cards, check or cash.

On Thursday, the first day of the sale, purchases of $200 or more are entitled to a 20 per cent discount. On Friday, all books and materials are half price, and on Saturday, customers may fill large paper grocery bags with books for $5 each, with no limit to the number of bags they fill. Bags are free, compliments of local food stores.

Members of the Friends of the Chatham Community Library receive discount cards worth $3 each, including all those who join at the book sale. This discount may be used on any day of the sale.

The Chatham Community Library is located at 197 NC Highway 87 in Pittsboro, about a half mile north of US Highway 64 Business (West Street), and is adjacent to Central Carolina Community College.

Proceeds from the book sale are used to benefit the library for underwriting various programs; purchasing needed books, materials and equipment; and improving its technology and services.
